Leviticus, Chapter 22

²¹ If a man presents a peace offering sacrifice to Adonai for a special votive offering or for a freewill offering from the herd or the flock, it must be flawless to be acceptable; it must have no flaw.

²² You must not present to Adonai something blind, or with a broken bone, or mutilated, or with a running sore, or with a festering eruption, or with a feverish rash. You must not give any of these as a gift on the altar to Adonai. ²³ As for an ox or a sheep with a limb too long or stunted, you may present it as a freewill offering, but it will not be acceptable for a votive offering. ²⁴ You must not present to Adonai something with testicles that are bruised, crushed, torn, or cut off; you must not do this in your land. ²⁵ Even from a foreigner you must not present the food of your God from such animals as these, for they are ruined and flawed; they will not be acceptable for your benefit.

²⁶ Adonai spoke to Moses: ²⁷ "When an ox, lamb, or goat is born, it must be under the care of its mother seven days, but from the eighth day onward it will be acceptable as an offering gift to Adonai. ²⁸ You must not slaughter an ox or a sheep and its young on the same day. ²⁹ When you sacrifice a thanksgiving offering to Adonai, you must sacrifice it so that it is acceptable for your benefit. ³⁰ On that very day it must be eaten; you must not leave any part of it over until morning. I am Adonai.

³¹ "You must be sure to do my commandments. I am Adonai.

Ezekiel, Chapter 44

¹⁵ Now, the levitical priests who are descendants of Zadok, faithfully kept charge of My Sanctuary when the people of Israel were unfaithful to Me. They may come near to Me and serve Me by offering Me the fat and blood of sacrifices - says the Sovereign God. ¹⁶ They alone may enter My Sanctuary and draw near to My table to serve Me and keep My charge.
