

About Diana Bloom

Productivity and Efficiency Coach Diana Bloom travels internationally, teaching take-away actionable systems to achieve higher productivity and efficiency in all areas of an organization. Participants around the country have gained knowledge and tools during her seminars, conference workshops, webinars, and executive coaching sessions that have enabled them to immediately implement permanent changes in their personal and professional lives. Her techniques are presented in a manner that can be quickly understood with measurable results. Diana's humorous, engaging and straightforward training style has assisted thousands of people achieve dramatic change in their lives. Her workshops and executive coaching sharpen delegation, improve project management, strengthen communication and eliminate mistakes, while creating a Totally Accountable culture.

Diana is a frequent conference speaker and facilitator for organizations such as the American Camp Association, The Foundation for Jewish Camp, Hillel International, JPRO Network, UJA-Federation, and the JCCA.

Diana grew up on Long Island and graduated with a B.A. in Judaic Studies from Binghamton University and an M.A. in Medieval Jewish History from N.Y.U as a Fellow in the Skirball Department.

What people are saying about Diana's workshops and consulting

"Diana did a fabulous job with our Staff! She met with our entire senior team for two days and helped us rethink our inefficiencies. We have all implemented many of her ideas and it has changed the way we operate. Congratulations Diana....! I will never look at meetings and emails the same. Managers.... this is the best gift you can give to your team (and to yourself)!" - Rabbi Peter Berg, The Temple, Atlanta

"Diana's training session about accountability, teamwork, and communication strategies was a truly inspiring experience. Her strategies are simple to understand, well thought out, and not difficult to implement. Her training was inspiring on a personal level, and would be transformational on an organizational level. I cannot recommend her highly enough." -Rabbi Andrew Terkel, Director of Year Round Programs, Greene Family Camp

"Diana Bloom is an engaging and dynamic speaker. Her professionalism and knowledge are readily apparent, but it's her quick wit and sense of humor that distinguishes her from other coaches and trainers. She definitely keeps her audience connected. Diana's ability to quickly process information and provide meaningful feedback is a key differentiator. She makes the effort to really know her customers and to focus on their needs. She is amazing! I enjoy Diana! She is committed to her customers and will quickly become part of your team!" - Jess Harris, CSP, ARM, CXL, CHUBB

"I feel like I am fighting a battle that I can never win with email and to do's and Diana's methods are practical, simple and understandable. Diana also has a knack for getting the info across in a light tone that everyone is receptive to! Many of her simple examples of things going awry simply because someone forgot to write it down, made me laugh because it was so relate-able. Diana is a wonderful facilitator." - Greg Kellner, Executive Director, Temple Sinai, Denver

"Diana is an ideal, top-notch trainer for professionals seeking ways to enhance managerial habits and strengthen leadership behaviors particularly for those in fast-paced organizations, working across high-achieving teams and in complex environments. Her warm, enthusiastic personality and many years of coaching in corporate, non-profit and entrepreneurial settings easily allow her to customize her facilitation for anyone and any group. The results of her recommended best practices can be seen right away. You'll feel her genuine investment in your success from the very start." -Ian A. Kandel, Vice President, AZA, BBG and the Teen Movement, BBYO International

"Diana gave me the tools and resources to feel like I could take control of a chaotic schedule. She helped me prioritize, break down projects into manageable tasks, and schedule my day with realistic expectations. On the days when I'm really using these tools, I go home satisfied that my work for the day is complete and assured that I'm attending to my priorities. - Tilly Shames, Executive Director, University of Michigan Hillel